9th—12th Grade

GOOO DRAGONS!

This Friday, April 24th is a non-attendance day.

There will be no assignments created or due on this day. Please take advantage of this extra day and use it to get caught up on missing work/assignments!

Grades are still in process and your graded assignments are being added to the gradebook in Illuminate. We have mailed home Illuminate log-ins for parents and guardians who have not logged on yet this year. You can check your grade at any time on Illuminate. In addition to this, we will be sending home a progress report every Wednesday beginning next week on April 27th. You have one week to get in missing assignments to get your grade as high as possible before the first progress report is sent home! We know this time is different and difficult but you are resilient and staying focused on your learning will support your achievement of all of your future goals!
